Conditions of use (summary)

The copyright in some material may be held by a party other than Heritage New Zealand. Heritage New Zealand can advise who this is, but it is your responsibility to contact the copyright holder and provide Heritage New Zealand with his/her written permission to use the image.

Images and other materials may be used only for the purpose stated on the application form. If you wish to use the material for any other purpose, you must submit a new application and pay the relevant charges. Copies supplied to you by Heritage New Zealand may not be further copied, reproduced, edited or otherwise made available to third parties outside the original purpose for which they were supplied.

The Heritage New Zealand does not grant wider permissions such as world rights, perpetual or exclusive rights. The Heritage New Zealand reserves the right to refuse applications.

You may not photograph or scan Heritage New Zealand images or reproduce an Heritage New Zealand image directly from a publication. Nor may you photograph prints or photocopies supplied by Heritage New Zealand or further copy digital images to CD or DVD.

No manipulation of Heritage New Zealand images (such as outlining, overlapping, distortion, colouring etc) is permitted. Writing, such as titles or underlying text should not intrude on images. Cropping of an image requires express permission and if permitted, this must be specified as a detail in the accompanying caption.

The Heritage New Zealand has a responsibility to ensure that the material in its care is used in an appropriate way, and is consistent with the way in which the items were originally acquired. This may require heeding personal or cultural sensitivities, and upholding the integrity of the original item.

Acknowledgment of the New Zealand Historic Places Trust Pouhere Taonga must accompany any reproduction of Heritage New Zealand material. You may also need to acknowledge the photographer, author, maker, or artist and, where quotations are made from text in an Heritage New Zealand publication, the name and issue date of the publication must be cited.
